- 30 BETTESWORTH (RICH.) Letter to Mr. Stockdale, 2s. 6d. Oxford, Dec. 5, 1790

An interesting letter, in which he says, "I received at the same time a letter from Burne, a Dublin Bookseller, to whom Col. Vallancey had, unknown to me, recommended the Manuscripts I mentioned to you; he has promised to print off two thousand at his own expense." &c. "But I have been made [to] pay so dearly for everything in Oxford, that I shall deal there no more." He was the son of Colonel Bettesworth, of the Irish Artillery, Dublin.

- 31 BEVERLEY (W. R. Lessee of the Manchester Theatre) Candid Letter to N. Mori, Esq., thanking him for his offer; and cannot comply with his wish. "De Begnis with Fanny Ayton was here last year; and did not meet with that success which was expected," &c. 2s. 6d. Manchester, Oct. 19, 1828
- 32 BEYNON (J.) Autograph Letter to S. H. Phillips, 5s. Newcastle, March 29, 1815
- Relating to a Duel, in which he wishes to know the character of one Mr. John Heslop, who has come here, and states himself to be a resident at Carlisle, and an Officer in the army. "The fact is, that he arrived here on the first day of Cardigan Sessions, to prosecute me for an unfortunate affair in this neighbourhood; and a Bill of Indictment was found for Manslaughter, upon which I was fined one shilling, and discharged. He represents himself to be the father of the person that fell, which is much doubted." &c.
- 33 BIGLAND (RALPH, Clarencieux and Registrar in the Herald's Office) Autograph to an Order for a Warrant to be recorded in the Herald's Office, from the Earl of Scarborough, Deputy Earl Marshal of England, 2s. April 2, 1777
- 34 BIRCH (Miss C. Singer) Autograph Letter from this eminent Singer to Mr. Olivier, stating she has engagements offered, &c., neat specimen, 2s. N.D., 1838
- 35 BIRD (JAMES, the Yoxford Poet) Long and interesting Autograph Letter (to Mr. Copping, of Sadler's Wells?) in which he says his "stay in London must necessarily be short." He says, "Forrest appears to have made a good hit as Othello the Moor;" and further says, "I have two or three new Comic Songs, which I will bring with me, if I can get time to write them out. With some alterations as to localities, I think they would go off in London with some eclat! This is my MODEST opinion!" Other matters equally interesting; he concludes with his regards to his old acquaintances at the Wells, scarce, 4s. Yoxford, Oct. 27, 1836
- 36 BIRNIE (SIR RICHARD) Autograph Letter to the Lord Mayor. 2s. Bow Street, March 18, 1824
- "Mr. Secretary Peel has sent me your Lordship's Letter of yesterday's date," &c.

- 155 GOSPELS.—Lessons on the Gospels, in Latin, 4to, oak covers, £3. 3s.

This is a beautiful and neat MS. on fine vellum, of the early part of the 15th century. The capitals are all coloured, and throughout in remarkably clean condition.

- 156 GRACE (CAPT. PERCY) Autograph Letter to Mr. Booth, 3s.
H. M. Ship "Crewe," Plymouth Sound, June 1, 1822

"I am sure he is glad to hear that at the muster and inspection on Wednesday last, my ship was admired by every one, and received the Commander-in-Chief's warmest approbation in the most public and most flattering manner," &c.

- 157 GRADUALE CANTICUM, sub missa soletum continens, 8vo, German bds. £3. 3s.

Written upon vellum, consisting of 539 pages. The music entirely in the Gregorian style; and the capitals rubricated; apparently written about the latter end of the 14th or beginning of 15th century; unfortunately the last leaf has been supplied by a more recent hand on paper; fairly written; and is quite perfect with the exception abovenamed.

- 158 GRAHAM (CAPT. H.) Letter to Capt. Robinson, stating he had been told by Mr. Campbell, Prize Agent, that there has been a return applied for to Lord Beresford, of the Officer's names that have been at the different actions fought by the Duke of Wellington, 2s. 6d. July 26, 1815

- 161 GREEN (MAJOR) Autograph Letter to Angus Macdonald, Esq. in which he excuses himself from acknowledging the receipt of his letter, through a severe wound he received in action with the enemy, on the 27th July, 1813. He embarked at Passages, in Spain, on, or about the 30th Nov. to repair to this country. He applies for an advance of money payable to him from Sir Henry Pym; and ends in a postscript "that it has not been communicated to me, by the Portuguese Adjutant General, or any of Lord Beresford's Staff, that I am dismissed the Portuguese Army," fairly written, 3s. 6d,
Stonehouse, Plymouth, April 18, 1816

- 162 GREW (DR. OBADIAH) Many Sermons on the Scriptures, 2 vols. fol. hf. bnd. neatly written, 15s. Circa, 1650

Dr. Grew was minister of St. Michael's, Coventry, a calm, grave, sedate divine. He was author of several other works, and one of the ejected ministers of Warwickshire.

- 163 GRIFFITH (HUGH) Letter to Mr. Findley, 2s. 6d.
Ship "Blonde," New York, Oct. 30, 1779

This person left England for the Army; and on his voyage to Rhode Island, he says, "We cannot call ourselves unlucky as we escaped a very severe seowering in the Equinoctial Gale, during which we remained at Sandy Hook;" and it appears, great advantage was taken by some of the Natives, by their recklessly seizing all they could plunder, previously preparing a conveyance to York. [New.]

- 164 ————— Another long and highly interesting letter to the same, 7s. 6d. Ship "Blonde," New York, Oct. 11, 1780

He says, "We have bad work here, General Arnold the Rebel Chief has joined us openly; he has been inimical to the American cause sometime; he corresponded with General Clinton for a long while: one of the deepest schemes ever known was laid between them." &c. "Washington got scent of it, and knowing the weakness of the French, was on the eve of marching to their reinforcement, leaving Arnold with the command up the North River." &c. "The ill fated Major André" was sent as a spy; and General Arnold made his escape. The Major, according to the rules and regulations of War, was "tried; and being above telling a lie, where his life was at stake, frankly owned that he came out as a spy, but when taken was a spy; his eloquence had such an effect on many of the court, that when his sentence was pronounced, they shed tears, lamenting the fate of so great a man." He concludes, "when the account arrived at York, the Soldiers' lips vibrated André! André! and the streets re-echoed vengeance with the Bayonet to the sons of Rebellion!"

- 187 HERMETICAL PHILOSOPHY.—Liber Hermetis vel de rebus Occultis, fol. oak covers, covered with vellum, £3. 13s. 6d.
- This Latin mauuseript is on 248 pages, and throughout very neatly and legibly written on paper, apparently between the 13th and 14th centuries. It contains numerous diagrams of this singular science, and is in the very cleanest condition possible, many of the leaves with rough edges. At the end will be found a Prayer, in Latin, and some Dutch inscriptions, with a monogram in a later hand.
- 188 HICKES (WILLIAM) Bond to John Pennington, for the performance of Covenants, on parchment, 2s. 6d. Sept. 20, 1616
- 189 HICKMAN (CAPT.) Long Autograph Letter, respecting Prize Money, 4s. - - - East Barnet, Feb. 15, 1827

"The money arose from small prizes taken up the Adriatic, and sold there, and dollars brought on board; and it was on our return we put into Palermo, when Sir Murray Maxwell had all hands on deck, and asked them if they were willing to send the dollars to pay the troops with, and that we were to have the principle and interest on our arrival in England? Of course, we all agreed, and Lieut. Hawkey, R.M. and myself were sent on shore to count them."—"I am well aware there was prize money paid on board the 'Dedalus,' previous to her sailing to India." He mentions the names of the officers and their residences, and "we took a convoy to India, where we were wrecked," &c.

- 237 LOEKE (JOHN) System of Metaphysicks, on 249 pages, sm. 8vo, orig. cf. £10. 10s. [1684-90]

This interesting unpublished, and undoubtedly original, and beautiful manuscript volume, treats copiously on the subject METAPHYSICS, in conjunction with PNEUMATICS; throughout the divisions are Synoptical tables, shewing the relative positions of ideas, &c. It appears to bear every mark of originality, with the exception of its wanting his signature. At the bottom of page 26 will be found the following words, to one section of the work, "Finished April 18, 1684;" but which does not appear to be followed up through the volume. It is very distinctly written, especially the tables, but towards the latter portion of the volume, the writing appears enlarged, evidently by the same hand.

- 263 ——— (JAMES GRAHAM, MARQUIS OF) Decree of Starre-Chamber concerning Inmates and divided Tenements in London, or three miles about, 4to, £1. 11s. 6d. 1636

The bottom of the title has a Poem of eight lines, in the Autograph of James Graham, Marquis of Montrose, and commences thus,

"Great, good, and just, could I but rate
My greifes, and thy too sudden fate,
I would weepe ye world to such a strain
As it should deluge once againe, &c."

and signed "Montrose," very rare. This heroic man was betrayed by his intimate friend Lord Aston, who was the cause of his execution on the 21st of May, 1650. To add to his indignity, they affixed the hook of his deeds about his neck.

Note on fly-leaf, "This volume was formerly James' Marquis of Montrose, and I bought it at Strawberry Hill sale. [I. or J.]F."

- 264 MORE (MRS. HANNAH) Cheap Repository Tracts, in 12mo, with the Autograph, and following on fly-leaf, "The Lord is my Shepherd, therefore shall I lack nothing." Hannah More, 1829, 8s.

MUSIC.

STEWART'S (MRS. COLONEL) ~~Late~~ celebrated comic Opera of "Don Quixote," in 3 Acts, including all her arrangements in short and full scores, also for a full band or double orchestra; throughout very legibly written; and adapted for any large or small Theatre or Concert-room. Those portions arranged in parts for the band, are faithfully transcribed under the direction of this talented Lady, by Mr. Walker, the copyist.

The original MS., in full score, on 378 pages, ob. fol. hf. cf. nt. The Opera, 3 vols. ob. fol. hf. cf. nt. The original MS. Pianoforte Accompaniment, on 214 pages, ob. fol. cf. The OVERTURE, SONGS, CHORUSES, &c., arranged in parts, for Pianoforte, and full Orchestra; altogether forming two large parcels, all in excellent condition, only £7. 7s.

The ~~records~~ ^{words} of the Play are written in 4 Books, by Mrs. S., in which are enclosed copies of the critical Comments of the late Mr. Samuel Wesley, and William Combe, Esq., author of "Dr. Syntax." Mr. W. says, "The composition and management of which, he thinks highly creditable to the musical talents of Mrs. S.; and is of opinion, that were it brought forward with all the advantages of scenic representation, it must infallibly prove an attractive piece." Mr. C. says, "It is impossible for any piece to begin or end better. As to the subject, in general 'tis classical; and stamp'd with originality. The dialogue is entertaining, the plot busy, and replete with incident so varied in each act, as to awaken attention and excite interest to the very conclusion: it's a Finale," &c.

The immense mass of copying alone, could not have cost less than £100.

Nos. 1 to 3, of upwards of 2000 Tracts, on all subjects, may be had on sending 6 postage stamps to frank them.

No. 19, consisting of Books in all classes, some rare; and No. 20, forming the fourth part of Tracts, preparing, which may be had, on gentlemen forwarding their addresses to Messrs. H. & B.
